Description of Technique

1. Pick an everyday object (or an image of this object) such as a shoe, a pair of scissors, a toy, jewellery, and so on. (A shoe is an amusing choice.)
2. Reproduce the object on paper by observation.
3. Redraw the lines with a marker to obtain a clear pattern.
4. Place a square sheet of overhead transparency over the pattern.
5. With a black permanent marker, redraw the pattern on one of the sides of the transparency.
6. Rotate the transparency a quarter turn.
7. Redraw the pattern, and repeat the steps until you've redrawn the pattern on all sides of the transparency.
8. Flip the transparency over and colour with permanent markers.
